One day on the Bosphorus.

7 A.M.

The gulls wake us up with their shrill, piercing squawks. This is a sound that we will come to hear a lot over the course of the day while the shadows from their wings glide over the floor below us, particularly along the shore. The view over to the water is like drawing one last deep breath before diving into the pulsing, busy streets of the pearl of the Bosphorus.

My
Istanbul

12 P.M.

Istanbul, a city of mosques? Well, yes. But this city is also so diverse, so thriving, so full of contradictions, so enigmatic that it challenges every stereotype. We leave the Blue Mosque, head just a couple of alleys further and we're in a completely other world. One thousand and one faces, that's Istanbul.

3 P.M.

Istanbul is a treat for all your senses. Colourful, compelling, breathtaking, vivacious, magical, or sometimes simply indescribable. We pay a visit to Kapalı Çarşı, the Grand Bazaar, and experience all this at once. A vast, unbelievable labyrinth full of picture-perfect alleyways lined with shops, attracting half a million customers every day. Full of different aromas and colours, it is romantic, but with a sense of rawness too.

8 P.M.

Sunsets in Istanbul are a memory that you take home and cherish forever. The loud hustle and bustle of the day slowly starts to fade. People sit in front of cafés to watch the twilight break over the beautiful Bosphorus, bathing the city's skyline in shades of gold. This is Istanbul.

Beauty is a sculpture.

WE MEET THE ARTIST GÜNNÜR ÖZSOY

My
Istanbul

GÜNNÜR ÖZSOY

Günnür Özsoy is an artist. A sculptor to be precise. She hosted our team at her Istanbul apartment for the Volkswagen Collection photo shoot. Of course, her career has also had a huge influence on the style of her home. Her sculptures provide a unique, sophisticated look: round, flowing, smooth shapes that you just want to run your hands over. Feeling as good as they look, the sculptures have a warming effect, a soft and almost calming influence – in other words, simply beautiful.

Günnür Özsoy is always on the lookout for new materials to use in her sculptures. "I love all materials," she says. A quick glimpse through her exhibition catalogues and her love truly shines through. There are bronze, marble and aluminium pieces, along with sculptures in felt and polyester. She has even worked with liquid lead for some of her pieces. Günnür Özsoy holds regular exhibitions at galleries in Istanbul and Ankara, along with a number of other European cities.

Find out more at www.gunnurozsoy.com.tr

1. Biomorphic abstract objects that seem to come to life are characteristic of the artist's work
2. At home with Günnür Özsoy
3. The sculptor's pieces are an expression of her passion for materials – and, at times, of her very self.

AUTHENTIC CULINARY MAGIC FOR OVER 100 YEARS:
PANDELI RESTAURANT

My
PANDELI

We couldn't have found a more fitting backdrop for our Classic Collection. The world-renowned Pandeli restaurant in Istanbul's Spice Market has a unique history, building a bridge between the past and the present with its impressive, delicious dishes. As Kemal Atatürk's favourite restaurant, its stunning décor with traditional jewelled tiles isn't the only thing that makes this venue shine. Visitors will also leave impressed by the authentic Ottoman cuisine. The kitchen hasn't changed its style since 1901, and still uses the original recipes created by head chef Pandeli.

Royals, politicians and celebrities, ranging from Michail Gorbachev to Robert de Niro, have all delighted in dishes including sea bass baked in parchment and unbelievably delicious almond biscuits, while enjoying stunning views over the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn. Thanks to its authentic Turkish cuisine, Pandeli has managed to maintain its reputation as one of the culinary highlights in Istanbul and a mecca for all food lovers.

Upcycling.

This concept refers to the process for transforming waste products or useless materials into new high-quality products. The materials are upgraded or, indeed, upcycled. A new way of thinking. A new style.

100% violence-free.

Shouldn't that go without saying? Not necessarily. For the production of the silk for the scarf in our Think Blue. Collection, every single silk cocoon is cut open carefully by hand so that the butterfly can emerge from the cocoon before it is boiled – silk production normally involves the butterfly being cooked with the cocoon.

The "Think Blue." scarf was designed in partnership with the clothing label "Coccon".

Sustainability and the environment play an important role throughout the entire production chain. The organic silk is manufactured under fair conditions in Jharkhand in eastern India and is GOTS certified. The wool is produced from a rare breed of sheep from the Himalayas. It is cleaned using organic detergents, without any bleach or dye. Applying the overarching project principles, the mixed fibres are spun, woven and then printed with GOTS certified inks.

A TREAT FOR ALL THE SENSES: A BOAT TRIP ON THE BOSPORUS

When you visit Istanbul, there is one thing you should not miss out on: a boat trip on the Bosphorus, the strait of water that separates the European half of Istanbul from the Asian half. There is nothing more wonderful than floating across the glittering waves under the beautiful blue skies with a fresh sea breeze on your face, while you soak up sights like the magnificent Sultan's palace, the old 19th century wooden villas and the rolling green hills. Municipal ferries and countless private ships line up on both banks, setting off on long tours that stop at a number of different destinations.

For a particularly exciting tour, try a maritime trip with one of the wooden boats from "Vintage Bosphorus Boats". The boat company's owners have worked extremely hard and put their hearts and souls into restoring two traditional boats back to their original state, christening them with two wonderful names, Kafka and Hesse. Kafka and Hesse can be booked out for the entire day, including catering. Trips are led by a captain who can tell you a lot of exciting stories about the Bosphorus and Istanbul. With a little bit of luck, you'll see a couple of dolphins along the way.

An architect of the extraordinary.

EMRE AROLAT BRINGS MINIMALISM TO THE CITY

It may not be easy to identify the unusual location used as the backdrop for the R Collection photo shoot. The Sancaklar Camii is a mosque built into the side of a hill so that it is almost completely underground. You can find it in the Büyükçekmece neighbourhood, right on the western edge of Istanbul. A minimalist construction, the simple and elegant design is enticing and unique in its modernity. This makes the Sancaklar Camii the perfect example for star Turkish architect Emre Arolat's work.

Since he founded "Emre Arolat Architects (EAA)" with a partner in 2004, the company has received countless international awards and is now one of the largest, most celebrated firms in Turkey. Extraordinary is the term that forms the basis of Arolat's work: always taking the chance on something new, breaking through the expected and transforming perspectives. This approach has given rise to a number of buildings in Istanbul that provide an impressive contrast to the more traditional look of the city's architecture. Whether it's a shopping centre, airport, museum, cultural central or a house: Anything designed by Emre Arolat is very seldom what it first seems.

Find out more at www.emrearolat.com

- 1 Construction of the Sancaklar Camii began in 2011 and the mosque was open by November 2013
- 2 The mosque is almost completely underground
- 3 Minimalist style also shines through in Arolat's draft for the Yalikavak Palmarina harbour in Bodrum.

FANTASTIC VIEWS: ROOF TERRACES HOLD THE KEY TO LIFE IN THE CITY

1

1. Istanbul at night: the view over Sultanahmed
2. View from the Marmara Pera Hotel to the Galata Bridge

Some of the shots from the GTI Collection shoot make one thing clear: Istanbul is a city lined with roof terraces; they form part of the culture in the Turkish capital and are where a large majority of life in Istanbul plays out. Visit any high point in the city and one thing will become abundantly clear: a sea of roof terraces, covering the entire city as far as the eye can see.

Countless restaurants, cafés and bars give you the chance to enjoy the overwhelming scale of this visual treat. For example, the 5kat is a popular restaurant with its very own roof terrace that affords a stunning view across the entire city.

Or if you're staying in the Hotel Marmara Pera, the wonderful panoramic view comes included with your room price – the roof bar also boasts a breathtaking vista across the historic city centre and Marmara sea. But if you want to know the best place to enjoy an evening on a roof terrace in Istanbul, the answer is easy: at home with a group of good friends.

In another world.

A LITTLE OASIS OF PEACE IN THE MEGACITY: PRINCE ISLAND

No noise, no cars, clean air and lots of space to play: Prince Island, known in Turkish simply as Adalar (islands), is a little piece of paradise for children. And for adults too of course! For stressed Istanbulites looking for a way to escape the hustle and bustle of the huge city, the islands are a classic city oasis. There are nine islands altogether, five of which are inhabited. A trip to the islands on the public ferries will take you about an hour, while private sea buses get you there a little quicker. Small motor boats also travel to the islands' piers during summer months.

First-time visitors to one of the Prince Islands will find themselves stepping into another world, a place where time seems to have stood still. The majority of the architecture is made up of stunning wooden villas from the 19th century. You see horses and carts everywhere you look – after all, no cars are allowed on the islands. In comparison to the traffic chaos in the city, the peace and quiet here is like paradise. However, the silence is always broken once a year – during the summer holidays in Istanbul when day trippers stream to the islands in their thousands.

- 1 Burgazada is the largest of the Prince Islands and is home to over 7,000 people
- 2 The rule on all of the islands: horses and carts instead of cars
- 3 The Prince Islands: An oasis right outside the gates of Istanbul
